

Artifact Examples - Iowa Teaching Standard #6
“Uses a variety of methods to monitor student learning.”

- a. observation, character lessons behavior expectation sheets, time limits to stay on task, change seating charts, alternate grouping short description of well-resolved conflict, checklist with students who actively participate in class expectation sheets, lesson plans, student feedback, contract, video clips participation forms, rules, group activities daily point sheets, assignment books self-evaluation, classroom floor plan FOSS and other cooperative groups, self-reflection tasks classroom jobs, cognitive learning, meet and greet, hallway monitoring provide examples of how students learn to interact with peers, model for students correct behavior, provide examples of strategies used to promote positive interaction Character Counts activities, classroom management system Central Elementary 3 Principles, role-playing behavior charts, behavior modification system peer observations with checklist, anecdotal record, list of strategies, report cards (work habits) create a learning community that encourages positive social interaction, rehearsal assessment partner work concerts (collaboration), rehearsal environment model behavior expectation (videotape) written comments/notes on student work self-assessment rubrics students clean up after themselves, student developed class rules
- b. syllabus, expectation sheets, character posters, training agreements treat students with respect, seating charts documentation sheets, student feedback, contracts, observation classroom rules PAWS (specific lesson on responsibilities) assignment books Cub club (5th grade), guidelines, behavior modifications, grading scale assignment sheets, thank you's written, assembly expectations, “YEA” points rewards for modeling correct behavior performance feedback, structured and unstructured activities daily notes, emails rules displayed, 3 Principles displayed, inform parents of behavior expectations Character Counts, report cards behavior management plan, 3-step warning chart, get acquainted night handbook, post six pillars progress report, role playing letters home about behavior issues songs for procedures

Artifact Examples - Iowa Teaching Standard #6
“Uses a variety of methods to monitor student learning.”

- c. syllabus
short and long term assignments, teachable moments, character education consequences for inappropriate behavior seating charts expectation sheets, observation, video clips, management plan starter activities, warm-ups behavior plan, IEP rubrics, self-guided instruction class rules posted rules, guidelines, behavior modifications, grading scale schedules, agenda for day describe method for processing student work student/teacher goal setting, accommodations for special needs picture of classroom, helper board, daily schedule lesson plans, line basics, body basics written procedures on handling situations, written procedures for positive reinforcement timelines for playing tests, lesson book progress posting student work on walls, participation points, student records, publishing student work in newsletters/newspaper transition procedures

- d. lesson plans – detailed, changes noted vary teaching techniques, use classtime for guided practice, activities to keep them engaged all period videotape of classroom lesson observation, expectation sheets outline of time on each lesson ITBS scores, standards and benchmarks covered daily math reviews, AR reading sticky note system time on task analysis of lesson IEP, incentive programs, schedule – posted picture of classroom activities schedule showing planned transitions, instructional flow, adaptation for skill level weekly/monthly planning, daily rehearsal rehearsal routines time audit, rubrics, journaling, team-meeting minutes, documentation of how you use aides and other adult volunteers in the classroom

- e. character lessons, safety lessons informal survey of students, copy of student referrals to show consistency of student behaviors expectation sheet, observation, lesson plan, contracts, management plan rules, picture of room

Artifact Examples - Iowa Teaching Standard #6
“Uses a variety of methods to monitor student learning.”

evaluation/observation sheets harassment presentation, PAWS (character traits) menus, writers workshop equipment/furniture inspected on a regular basis

Mandt training, seating charts, classroom management system lesson plans, picture of classroom activities and arrangement playground rules, map of classroom fire and tornado drill posted furniture appropriate to size of patrons, signage in library lesson objectives, student contracts, list of physical resources, post school rules safety records, condition of room